

Clare Jewell is the National Coordinator for Church Planting for the GARBC. His primary responsibility is to help Regular Baptist Churches plant more churches by developing partnerships with churches, regional associations and mission agencies.

Clare is also the Regional Director for ABWE North America West. In this role he is primarily responsible for facilitating church planting, developing partnerships with ethnic groups living in North America, and engaging next generation leaders in church planting.

In addition to these roles, Clare also teaches ministry leadership and church planting at Corban University in Salem, Oregon.

Prior to taking on his current responsibilities, Clare served as Senior Pastor of Lakewood Park Baptist Church in Auburn, Indiana for 20 years. During that time he developed church planting partnerships in Ukraine, India, Nepal, Russia, Brazil and Jamaica.

Clare has a Bachelor of Science in Bible from Clarks Summit University, a Master of Arts in Social Science from Eastern Michigan University, and is currently working on a Doctor of Ministry degree at Corban University. His thesis is focused on essential components of successful cross cultural church plants.

Clare is eager to help develop and grow the GARBC through church planting that is focused on the harvest – reaching people who do not know Christ. He would love to meet with you and/or your leadership team to discuss some exciting ways you can be engaged in multiplying disciples, leaders and churches.
